

The most institutionally
vetted solution on the market.

Tokenization is transforming financial markets by turning securities, funds, credit instruments, commodities, and alternative assets into programmable digital assets. As institutions move from experimentation to production, success depends on trusted financial data, transparent counterparties, and intelligent infrastructure that connects traditional finance with blockchain-based markets. Lukka provides the institutional foundation that powers tokenized asset issuance, valuation, compliance, settlement, and lifecycle management at scale.

Asset Intelligence & Valuation

OneFi — The Source of Financial Truth

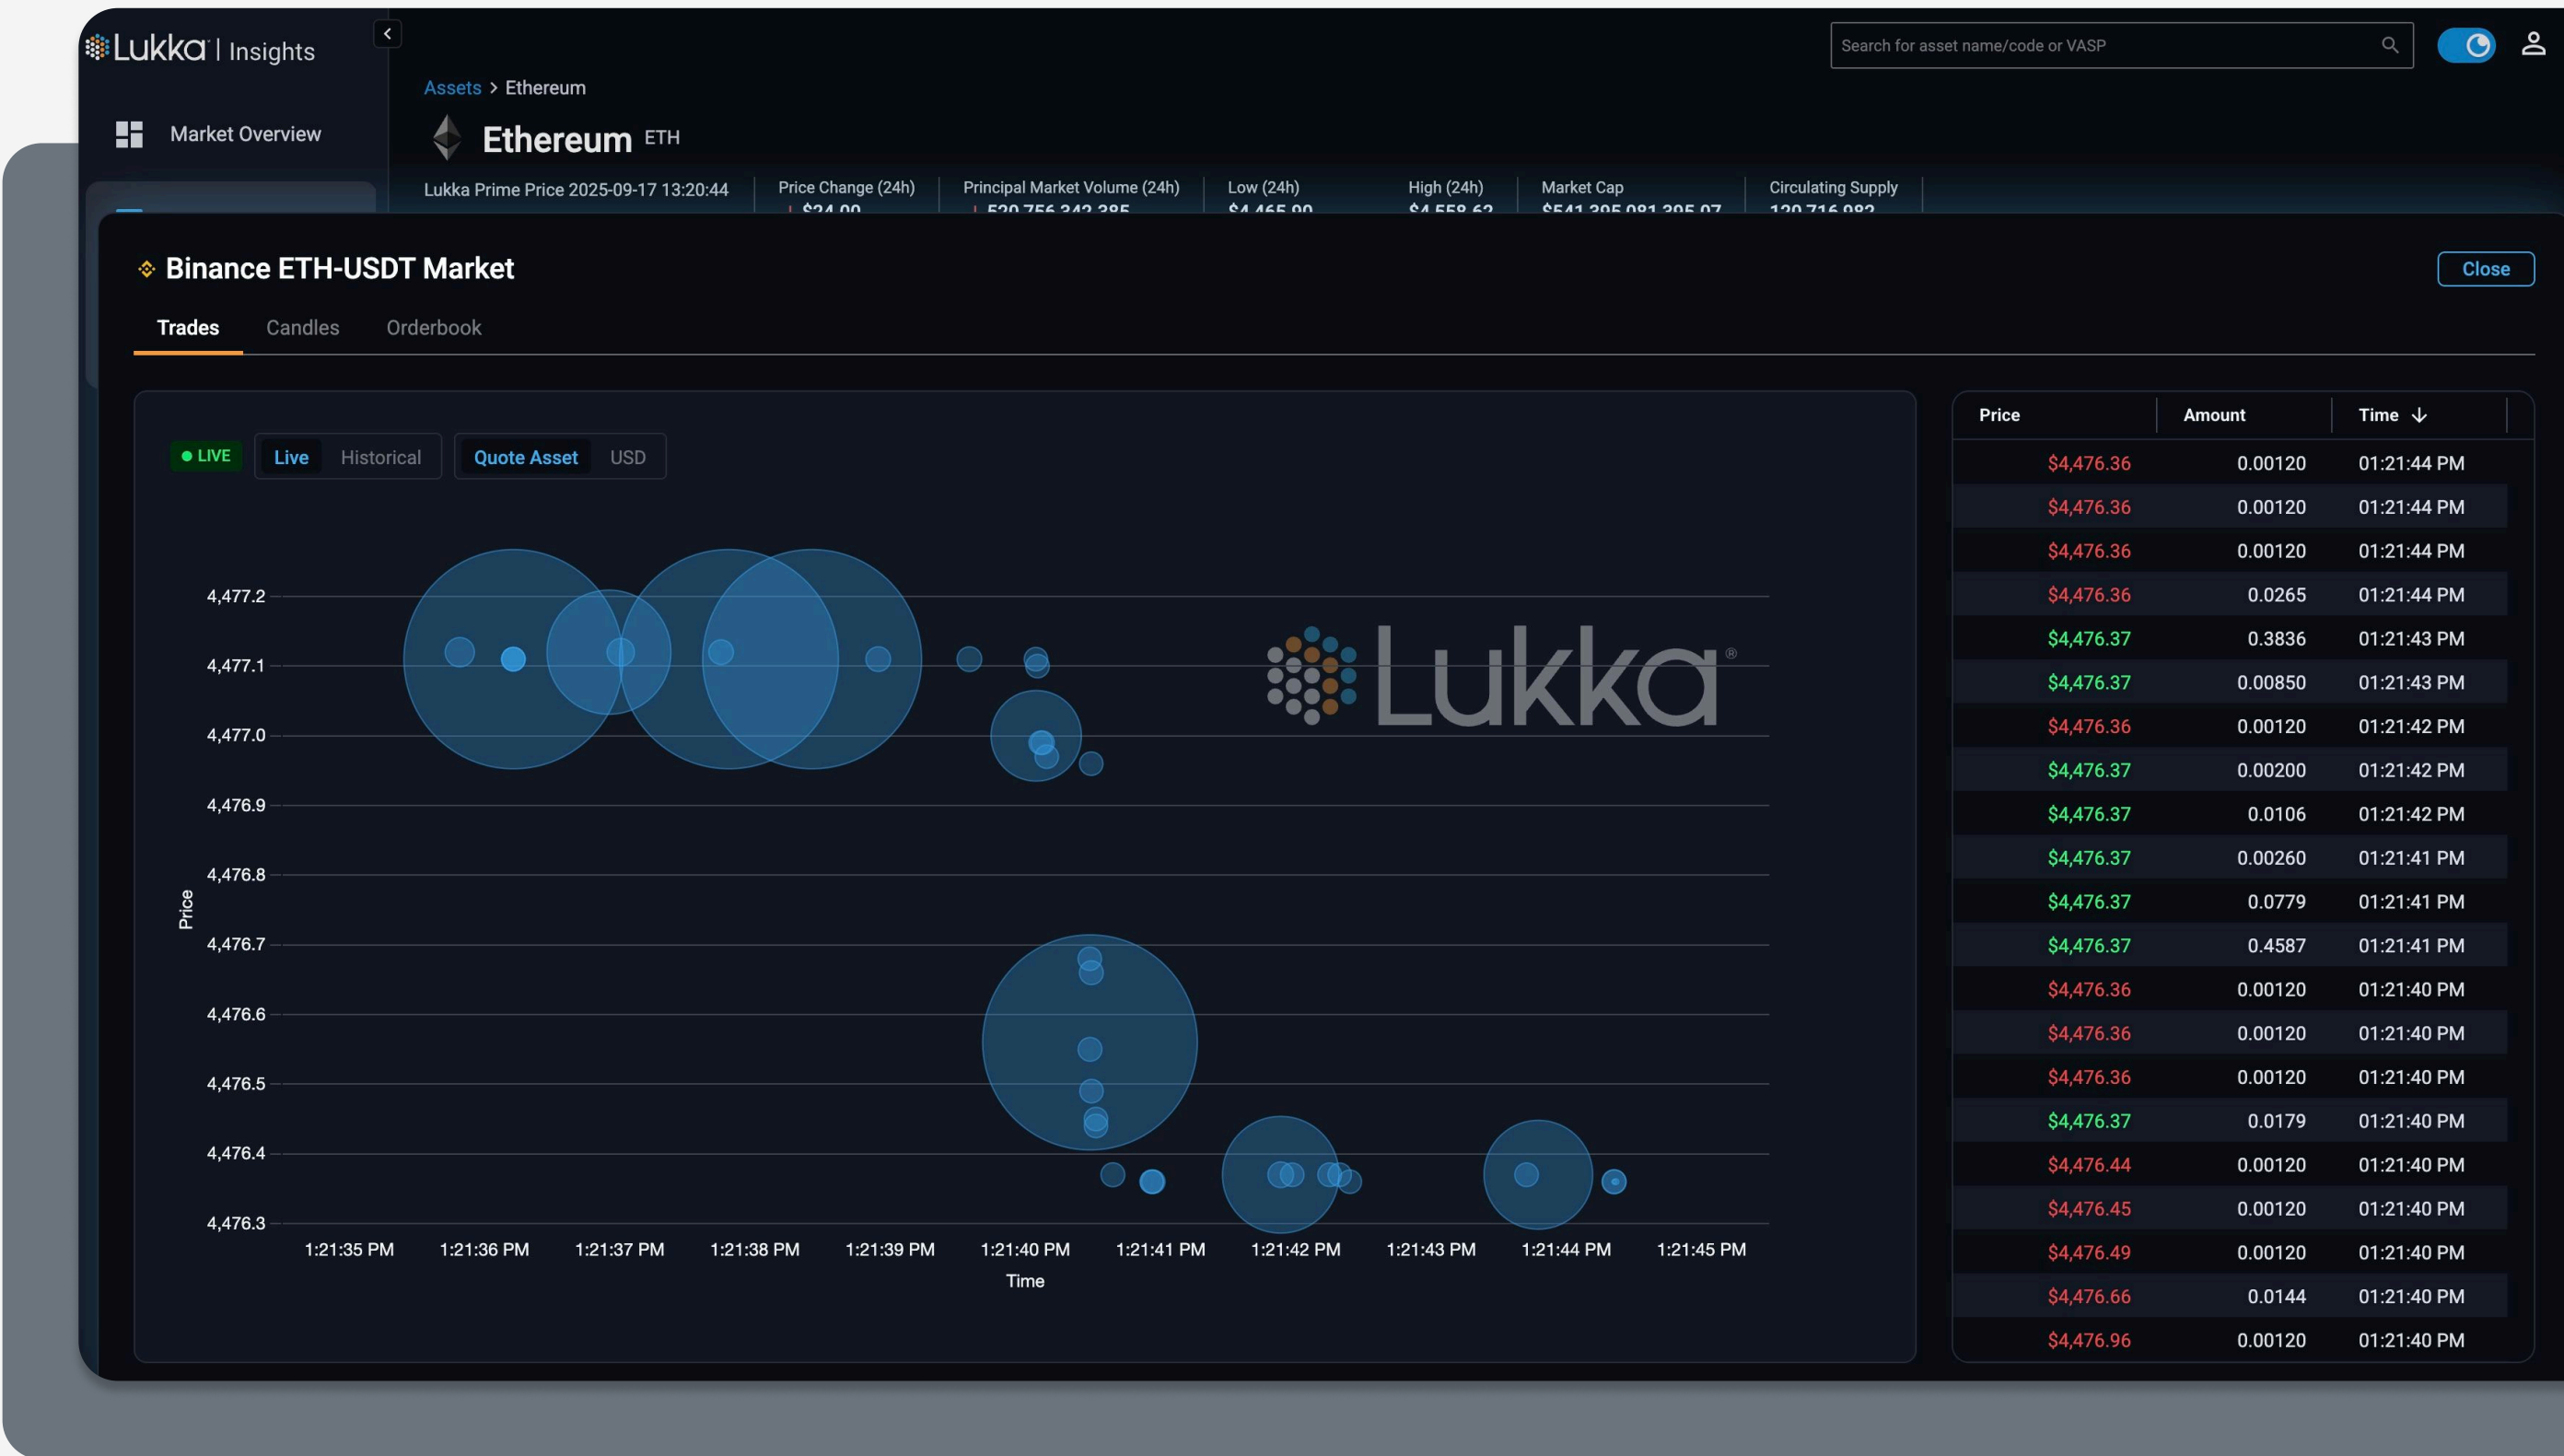

Create a unified digital book of record across traditional and tokenized assets, supporting issuance, servicing, reporting, and investment operations.

Institutional Pricing & Valuation

Deliver audit-grade pricing and valuation methodologies across tokenized securities, funds, private credit, commodities, and emerging asset classe

Lifecycle Intelligence

Monitor issuance events, corporate actions, ownership changes, redemptions, and token lifecycle activity through standardized asset intelligence.

Tokenized Market Infrastructure
